

TAFT'S SALARY DECIDED UPON

He Will Receive Seventy-Five Thousand And Twenty-Five Thousand For Extra Expenses.

OTHER WASHINGTON NEWS OF DAY

Roosevelt Praises Sperry And His Work In Taking The Fleet Around The World So Successfully.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., March 3.—The salary of President Taft will be seventy-five thousand dollars each year, according to an agreement reached today by conferees on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Extras Allowed
In the sundry civil bill there is an amendment giving the President twenty-five thousand dollars a year for traveling expenses. If this is agreed to the annual compensation of the President will be a hundred thousand dollars.

Names Winthrop
Judge Taft announced the selection of Beekman Winthrop to be assistant secretary of the navy. Winthrop has accepted.

Has Not Time

Myron T. Herrick of Ohio, for business reasons, has declined the offer of an ambassadorship at the hands of Taft.

Griceom Resigns
Lloyd C. Griceom, ambassador at Rome, has sent his resignation to the state department.

As to Trip
"Not a ship has had a scratch," says President Roosevelt in approving of Admiral Sperry's command of the Atlantic fleet on its cruise.

Credits Sperry
Secretary Newberry adds the trip reflected great credit on the entire navy and Admiral Sperry, in acknowledgment pays a tribute to his officers and men.

AGAIN FAILS WHEN THE VOTE IS TAKEN AT NOON SESSION

Failed to Note Pairing of Vote on Senatorial Election Until Too Late.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, Wis., Mar. 3.—Senator Isaac Stephenson received 62 votes in the senatorial ballot this noon, just half of the 124 votes cast. Senator Stephenson needed only one more vote to be elected. A motion to adjourn immediately followed. The Stephenson men opposed the adjournment and tried for another ballot, but the adjournment carried, 65 to 58.

Stephenson lost the election today when Assemblyman Barlett, after voting for Stephenson, remembered he was paired with someone on the senatorial question and asked to be so recorded. The request was granted. Had the Stephenson managers not overlooked the illegality of a pair on the senatorial, Stephenson would have been elected senator by a majority of one vote.

That Senator Stephenson made frequent donations to churches during his primary campaign, was developed from the testimony of Mary F. Stringham, his private secretary, who was on the stand before the primary investigating committee today.

Chairman March, during the examination, told the members of the committee he could prove that during the campaign paid workers of Stephenson went about the state saying the senator had been "very liberal" to certain churches; that if nominated he would be "even more liberal."

DELOIT MAN EXAMINED ON SERIOUS COMPLAINT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Deloit, Wis., March 3.—LaCount Coll was given his preliminary examination in the municipal court this morning charged with taking indecent liberties with a female under fourteen years of age, with or without her consent, and was bound over, under $500 bond, for trial, March 11. The complaining witness was the mother of Loretta Montgomery, the girl against whom Coll is charged, with having made the assault. Several witnesses were called in this morning and extra testimony was heard. The case was tried behind closed doors. The act is alleged to have been committed July 15, 1907. District Attorney J. L. Fisher appeared for the state and attorney H. W. Adams for the defendant.

ANOTHER EXHIBIT TO BE SHOWN HERE

University Extension Division Will Have an Anti-Tuberculosis Demonstration in City.

Some time during the week following Saturday, March 13, the exhibit sent to the International Tuberculosis Congress by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association will be shown at the public library. The exhibit is being sent to the various cities in the state and besides at Janesville, the charts and other paraphernalia will be displayed in hotel, Evansville and Madison. The work is in charge of the University Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin.

The exhibit is a sort of following-up of the other demonstrations and talks on the subject which have been given in this city and is given in the hope that the people of this community and other places as well, will organize a local organization to co-operate with the association in stamping out this terrible disease in the state. The lecturer who accompanies the exhibit will be assisted by the physicians and other friends that exhibit may be opened for further hours. In this state alone, since the first of the year, there have been twenty-nine deaths from tuberculosis.

The exhibit shows in graphic and striking forms the great losses resulting from the ravages of tuberculosis, the most effective and economical means of cure. An experienced demonstrator will be in charge of the exhibit to explain the various charts, models of houses, sleeping bags, window tents and photographs. Some space is given to information upon hygiene, tuberculosis and the rural mail carriers and creameries can be used to inform farmers.

On its first trip the exhibit will follow the line of the Chicago & Northwestern railway from Deloit to Marquette. Stops of about a week will be made in each of the larger cities.

Each city will be required to furnish a hall, fairly centrally located, without charge, to care for the local advertising and to provide a lantern for one illustrated lecture.

Other expense will be cared for from the fund raised by the sale of the Red Cross stamps.

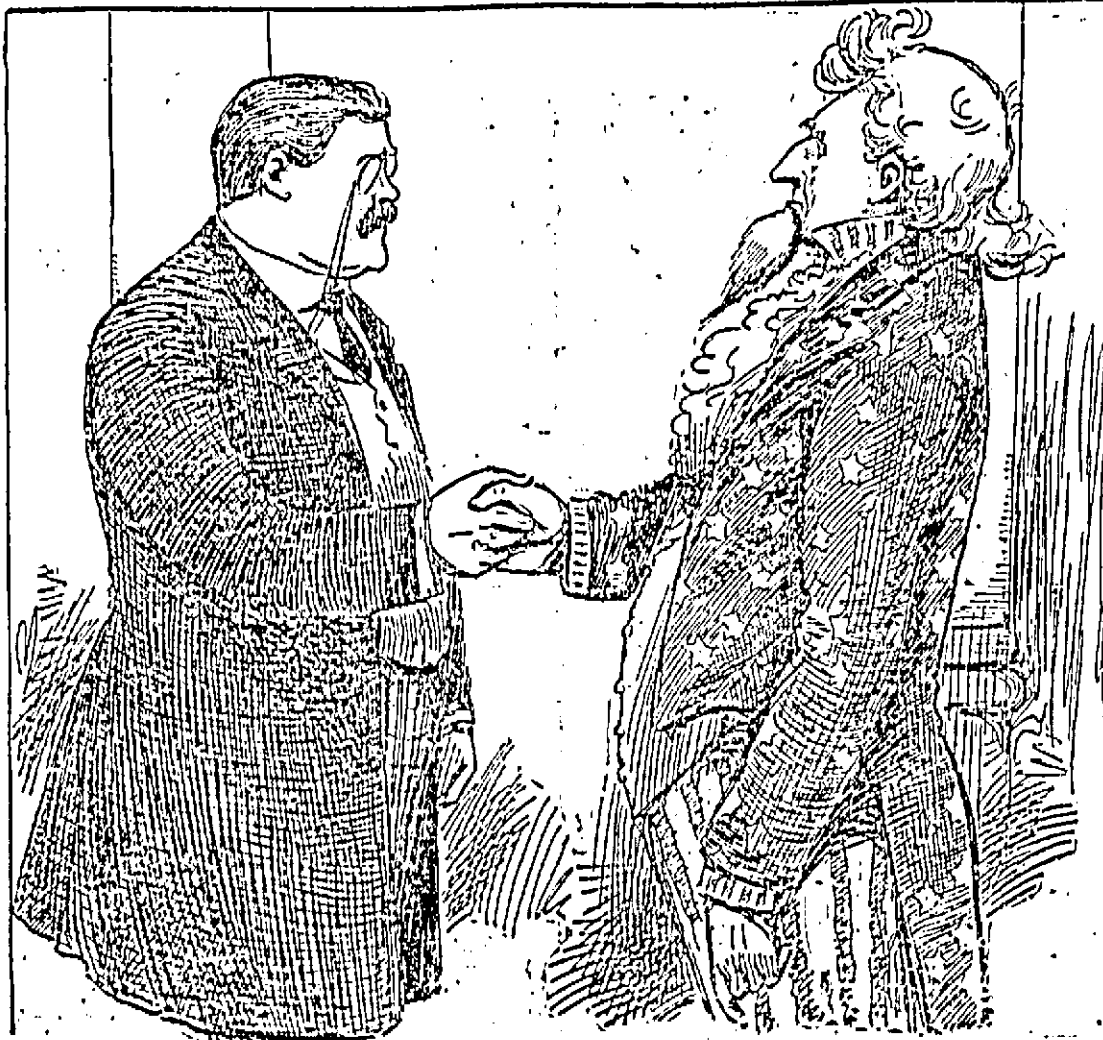

In Portage, where the original exhibit was shown some time ago, the women's club divided the city into ten districts and two members visited each home to invite the housewives. As a result there was a large attendance of those who most needed education in the methods of fighting the "white plague."

BLOW SENT TO JAIL FOR FOUR MONTHS

Janesville Youth Received Sentence
Monday Afternoon—Drunk Got Twenty Days.

Monday afternoon in the Baraboo court, Charles Blow and George Brunk, two boys taken to Baraboo for having assaulted Herman Miller, a bartender, sentence was passed on the two youths by the Baraboo judge. Blow was sentenced to four months in the Sauk county jail, and Brunk, after considering the matter, decided to plead guilty, and was given twenty days for his part in the offense. The trouble was caused by a row which was started in the saloon in which Miller worked, in which Miller struck Blow in the face. William Spring, another boy who was connected with the affair, will be brought to trial Friday.

Mrs. Cronin Improving: Mrs. Michael Cronin is reported to be slowly recovering. She sat up for a short time the other day but was so weak that she was forced to take to her bed again and has remained there since.

MAY LIVE TO UPSET ANOTHER TRADITION

Man Who Becomes the Only Living
Ex-President Tomorrow Is in the Prime of Life.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Tomorrow, for the first time since the death of Grover Cleveland on June 24 last, the United States will have a living ex-President. Mr. Roosevelt, comparatively young in years and a man of great physical vigor, may reasonably be expected to upset the popular notion, which has considerable basis in fact, that the Presidents of the nation are not apt to long survive their retirement from office.

Mr. Cleveland lived twenty-six years after his retirement. This record was exceeded by only ten Presidents and four of these lived in a great age. John Adams survived his retirement a quarter of a century, and his son, John Quincy, outlived his retirement nearly twenty years. Tyler also survived twenty years after leaving office. Thomas Jefferson lived seventeen years after his retirement and James Madison nineteen years. Martin Van Buren lived twenty-one years after quitting the White House, the same number of years that Millard Fillmore survived. James Monroe lived six years after his retirement. Andrew Jackson eight years. Franklin Pierce twenty-two years. James Buchanan seven years. Andrew Johnson six years. Ulysses S. Grant eight years. Rutherford B. Hayes twelve years, and Benjamin Harrison eight years.

William Henry Harrison, Zachary Taylor, Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield and William McKinley died in office. Washington survived his retirement less than three years. Folk died only a few months after retiring from office, and there is every reason to suppose that had Arthur compassed his ambition of an election to the Presidency in 1884, he would have died early in his term, for he outlived his retirement less than two years.

2,000 BLUEJACKETS WILL BE IN LINE

And National Guard's Representation In Inaugural Parade Will
Number 10,000 Men.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—The military and naval display at the inauguration of President Taft tomorrow promises to be the most brilliant that Washington has seen in many years. Major-General Harry W. Henshaw, who will command the regular army division of the parade, the bulk of this division will be composed of the infantry regiments recently withdrawn from Cuba. Then there will be a representation of the national guard of the various states to a total of about 10,000 men. The cadet battalion of the United States Military Academy and the midshipmen from the United States Naval Academy will be given prominent places near the head of the first division.

Even more interesting to the mass of spectators than the soldiers will be the representation of the navy. The historic cruiser Hartford and the naval transport Dixie and Drake, which reached the Washington navy yard today from Hampton Roads bringing 2,000 seasoned bluejackets, fresh from their memorable cruises around the world. The "jackets" will comprise the naval contingent of the inaugural parade. The brigade will be commanded by Rear Admiral W. P. Potter, commanding the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, with Lieut. Commander McLean of the Connecticut as his adjutant.

SHIFTS IN CABINET BROKE ALL RECORDS

Secretary Wilson is the Only Original Advisor of Roosevelt Who Retained Portfolio.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Mar. 3.—On the eve of the retirement of President Roosevelt it is not without interest to recall the fact that during the seven and one-half years he has occupied the executive chair there have been probably more changes and shifts in his cabinet than in that of any of his predecessors. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is the only member of Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet who was there when he succeeded to the presidency upon the death of President McKinley.

President Roosevelt, who had three secretaries of state, Mr. Hay, Mr. Root, and Mr. Bacon. He has had three secretaries of the treasury, Mr. Gage, Mr. Shaw, and Mr. Cortelyou. He has had three secretaries of war, Mr. Root, Mr. Taft, and Gen. Wright. He has had three attorney generals, Mr. Knox, Mr. Moody, and Mr. Bonaparte. He has had five postmaster generals, Mr. Smith, Mr. Payne, Mr. Wynn, Mr. Cortelyou, and Mr. Sloyer. He has had six secretaries of the navy, Mr. Long, Mr. Moody, Mr. Morton, Mr. Bonaparte, Mr. Metcalf, and Mr. Newberry. He has had two secretaries of the interior, Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Carlisle. He has had one secretary of agriculture, Mr. Wilson, and three secretaries of commerce and labor, Mr. Cortelyou, Mr. Metcalf, and Mr. Strauss.

WHAT IS TALKED BY LEGISLATORS

BILLS PROPOSED TO STRENGTHEN
PRESENT LAWS.

INSURANCE MEASURES UP

Many New Measures to Be Discussed
Relative to Important Matters.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., March 3.—To offset the bills introduced in the legislature at the instance of those insurance companies which have withdrawn from the state, Deputy Insurance Commissioner Herman L. Elborn, who is speaker of the 1907 assembly and the chief of insurance legislation, has caused to be introduced several measures which are calculated to strengthen existing laws.

One of the most interesting of these is one providing that statements made by persons applying for insurance shall have only the local effect of representations, and shall not be warranties. This would prevent accidental misstatements from invalidating a policy.

Another bill provides that there can be no discrimination in the settlement values of policies and that the same values must be given in settlement of extended insurance as in settlement of cash surrender payment. Thus, if the cash surrender value of a policy is $275, if one takes extended insurance he must be insured for the full time that the sum of $275 would furnish the insurance, or that if a paid-up policy is taken it must be for a sufficient amount to represent the full insurance which $275 would buy as a single premium. This bill also makes provision for automatic loans against the loan value of the policy for the protection of premiums.

The compulsory presentation of tables in all policies specifying the table of mortality and rate of interest, and the plan in which the reserve in such policy is to be computed, is provided in still another measure. In such policy, if there is any benefit purchased by the premium other than life or endowment insurance, it must also be stated what portion of the premium must also be charged for the purchase of the additional benefit.

The valuation bill is similar to the measure which was defeated by the legislature two years ago, save for the fact that no demand is made for a presentation in the policy of a valuation table. The valuation bill provides as a minimum standard of mortality the American Experience, the New York Select and Ultimate, the actuarial of any other table not showing at any time a lower death rate than the British office select table. It provides that the rate of interest assumed as a basis for the reserve shall not be more than 4 per cent, nor less than 3 per cent, and further provision is made for a valuation by the department of insurance on the assumptions of each company annually for each domestic company and that a permanent record shall be kept for all these valuations.

Hearings on most of the important insurance measures probably will be reached by the committees sometime next week.

OYSTER BAY PLANS A ROYAL WELCOME

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, March 3.—The people of Oyster Bay are planning to give Mr. Roosevelt a rousing welcome tomorrow evening when he arrives home from Washington. They will "set up" for him, even if they do not get to bed until after ten o'clock. They regard the disputation as patriotic because they do not think that another President will fall from Oyster Bay during the lives of the present villagers at least. A reception committee has been named to meet the ex-President at the station. His neighbors living along the Cove Road will illuminate their houses on Mr. Roosevelt and his family drive from the station to Sagamore Hill.

TAFT TO ATTEND SMOKER TONIGHT

WILL FRATERNIZE WITH SONS OF OLD ELI ON EVE OF INAUGURAL

THURSDAY'S BIG PAGEANT

And Electrical Display Will Be the Most Notable in History—Pennsylvania Avenue a Main-bow of Color.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Washington today is in readiness for tomorrow's inauguration of President Taft. The inauguration crowd, according to all outward signs, is the largest on record. The streets, and especially Pennsylvania avenue, are thronged with the incoming host of victors. One of the remarkable features of the crowd is the unusually large number of southerners. Every state of the south will be well represented at the ceremony tomorrow, a number of them by their governors and staffs and companies of militiamen.

The immense street throngs are variegated with uniforms of soldiers of every hue, and the civic hero is present clad in motley costumes involving every color known to the spectrum. Some are in purple, some in bright yellow, and others appear in shades of blue and brown and greens multitudinous.

By tomorrow morning the entire city will be in holiday attire. The task of placing myriads of decorations until hardly anything except flags and bunting is visible was far advanced today. There is no building from the capitol to the state, war and navy buildings that does not bear some token of the joyous salute of the country and of the people of Washington to the president-elect.

The electrical display eclipses anything of the kind ever undertaken here before. An incalculable number of electric bulbs serve to make Pennsylvania avenue almost as bright after dark as on the sunniest May day. The great buildings are outlined in lines of electric lights, as if some mighty artist had drawn a picture in flaming light on the black page of night. From the peace monument to the western end of the court of honor or Pennsylvania avenue is a gorgeous rainbow of the grandest work of the decorations, which show to equal advantage by day as well as by night. In white cloth, topped with green. Many overgreens are used. From thousands of poles, staves and lines the national red, white and blue is seen fluttering in the breeze, giving Washington's principal thoroughfare a highly animated and attractive appearance.

The great inaugural parade is scheduled to start promptly at 11:15 p. m. tomorrow. The committee estimated that between 30,000 and 35,000 men will be in the line. The majority of the marchers will be regular troops of the United States army, marines and blue-jackets of the Atlantic battleship fleet, cadets of the military and naval academies, and troops of the National Guard representing a score of states. Twenty-five governors and their staffs will be in line, together with political marching clubs from many parts of the country. Major-General J. Franklin Bell will be the grand marshal.

The start of the parade will be made parallel to the east front of the capitol north to H street; west on H street to 1st street; northward; south along 1st street to the Peace monument; west along Pennsylvania avenue to and passing the east front of the Treasury department on 15th street; thence along Pennsylvania avenue west to 15th street, where the marchers will be dismissed. The marching troops and civic organizations will be reviewed on Pennsylvania avenue, about 15th street, by Gen. Bell and his staff, after they have passed in review before the presidential party on the reviewing stand in the court of honor.

A small army of florists and decorators were at work today putting the finishing touches to the interior embellishments of the Pension building, where every inaugural ball since President Cleveland's inauguration has been held. For months the decoration committee has been working, and the result of its labors will be seen tomorrow night. Never before, it is said, have the decorations been on such a bold and lavish scale.

Mr. Taft's last day as a private citizen, for four years at least, was spent in receiving a few callers, in a brief chat with President Roosevelt and in consulting with some of the committees in regard to the details of the inauguration. Tonight he has promised to attend a smoker and supper arranged in his honor by the Yale alumni of Washington and vicinity. The entire upper floor of the New Willard hotel has been secured for the function. Thousands of Yale graduates from all over the country are among the inauguration visitors and it is expected that a large number will be on hand to unite in doing honor to the first graduate of Old Eli ever elected to the presidency. While Mr. Taft is not down for a speech, he undoubtedly will be called upon.

PYTHIANS TOOK
CITY BY STORM

300 ASSEMBLED HERE FOR DISTRICT CONVENTION.

MONROE'S FINE ORCHESTRA

Was One of the Big Features of the Gathering—Fine Work of Deloit's
Big Degree Team.

Three hundred Pythians took part in the annual district convention which was held at East Side Odd Fellows' hall last night and some of the visiting delegations in attendance numbered the Janesville lodge. This was made evident early in the evening when a playfully cruel "Oriental lodge stand up!" challenge went the rounds and the local branch of the order promptly but firmly refused to show its hand. Towards midnight, however, the dimensions of the host were materially increased and the situation was deprived of the embarrassment feature so largely enjoyed by the guests.

Evansville Not on Roster. In a recent redistricting of the Wisconsin domain Evansville, which has always belonged to the Janesville jurisdiction, was assigned to Madison. This has occasioned much dissatisfaction among the several branches hereabouts as well as in the ranks of the Cut-Off City lodge, and it is probable that the latter will be restored to the grumbling where it geographically belongs before another year rolls around. The situation evoked forth many expressions of regret last evening.

Beloit's Splendid Work

Deloit Lodge No. 40 was represented by nearly a hundred members and the degree team, numbering twenty-eight and equipped with beautiful regalia, conferred the rank of Knight on L. J. Caldwell of Janesville and E. T. Curtis, Thomas Hodges, and Melvin Howe of the Line City. Some of those who took part in this splendid exemplification of the ritual were: Chancellor Commander John H. Ivor, Vice Chancellor R. C. Denile, Prelate George H. Day, Master-at-Arms E. D. Siskerman, Keeper-of-Records and Seal C. W. Steele, Tiler Guard J. W. Morse, Outer Guard F. R. Nichols, Past Grand Chancellor, Commander C. A. Still was one of the interested onlookers and Grand Keeper of the Records and Seal U. S. Burns of Milwaukee delivered an address. The degree team was assisted in the initiation work by the K. of P. orchestra of seven voices from Monroe.

Monroe Made Big Hit

The services of that East & Booth orchestra from Monroe, indeed, constituted one of the big features of the convention. When the members of their delegation, with banners in their hats and big postboard grips, were bearing the labels, "Green County Cheese," had marched from the door to the Hotel Myers and taken their places at a long summer table, the music, in the most masterful of fact, "Sweet-Lovers' Song" fashion immediately, were assigned to a commanding position in the upper balcony. The only place available, however, was found to be way below international pitch and three of the players had to be temporarily excused. This was remedied later when the Monroe Knights, having invited the entire convention to attend, royally entertained with a musical program and Dutch lunch in the hotel. Dr. Glenn Sokomun was at the piano and with the assistance of Ray Bass, violin; Rex Booth, trombone and cello; Frank Stone, flute; Frank Gerber, clarinet; D. Gelsor, double bass, and Roy Woodie, Jr., trap drums, rendered one of the finest programs of admitted marches, dramatic waltzes, and crisp new medleys which had been heard here for many a day. The tempo was perfect, there wasn't a bit of composition in the series, and the applause which greeted each number was a good thing to hear. Those festivities were in progress until after two o'clock this morning and the "Monroe idea" was not lost sight of even in the refreshments, the home-grown and blown character of the latter being unobtrusively but effectively set forth on the labels.

Personnel of Party

In addition to the orchestra, the following made up the platoon of Cheese City invaders: Chancellor Commander William Trunkembrod, Dan Higgins, Fred Blumer, Jacob and G. A. Karlen, George Kunder, A. Sary, Edward Fabel, Frank Sledgerson, Fred Muschelmann, John D. Winkler, James Nages, G. W. L. Schlotter, G. Wenger, Dr. J. P. Mauer, Nathan, Clayton Emerick, Emil Wolke, A. Zilmer, E. Huglow, F. Carter, E. Woodie, W. Zilmer, H. Hendrickson, W. Heitz, Prof. P. C. Hansen, Arthur Bankert, Nicholas Durst, Ray Young, Paul Huff, George Schneider, John Elter, Peter Burke, Fred Faser, Arthur Baehler, and E. Weyer.

Other Lodges Represented.

Elkhorn Lodge No. 91 sent a delegation of seventeen which included District Attorney John P. Inkalda of Walworth county, James Anos, Fritz Olson, Editor John Schneider of the Elkhorn Independent, and Dr. S. C. Goff. The Clinton representation included S. J. Jones, F. W. Horron, M. Hood, C. Rusta, W. H. Chesebourn, and W. C. Hendley. Delavan Lodge No. 59 sent a large quota which included E. C. Larson, W. G. Luckinsley, George Clark, and Lillian Stark. Brookfield, Edgerton, and Ft. Atkinson were also well represented.

Repeat Served at Hall.

The Janesville lodge had provided plenty of cigars and an excellent supper was served under its direction in the apartments under the lodge room during the progress of the evening. The arrangements were in charge of District Deputy Jesse Carlo and he was assisted by John H. Jones and Fred H. Ballhaz. From every possible standpoint the convention was a big success and reflected great credit on all who took an active interest in the undertaking.

Circle No. 2 will give a box social at the home of Mrs. Chas. Keunher on Bluff street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Everyone is invited to come and be sure and bring your lunch with you. Mrs. Lawson, Sec'y.

JOHN ENRIGHT MAY
GET THE POSITION

Former Janesville Boy Stands Chance of Becoming Director of Civil Service in Philippines.

According to word received from Manila, John E. Enright, a former Janesville boy and at present private secretary to the Governor General of the Philippines, is in line for a promotion and is a possible choice as director of the civil service in the islands to take the place of Dr. William S. Washburn the present director. Mr. Enright has been in the work in the Philippines for the past ten years and has pushed steadily to the front from the time he entered the service. The news of his appointment will give his friends in this city much pleasure in his success. He is deserving of the high position which he may receive.

Of the position and Mr. Enright's chances, a Manila newspaper says: "It is known that Enright has an excellent chance of succeeding Dr. Washburn, as he was chief clerk in the Civil Service Bureau before he went to the Ayuntamiento as secretary to General Smith, who at that time was commissioner, and it is an honor as chief clerk he handled a great amount of detail work of the bureau which was outside of his regular work, and which made him thoroughly familiar with the routine of the bureau."

There is a general belief that in case Mr. Enright's name is proposed as the head of the bureau that Dr. Washburn would oppose it, not necessarily because he does not like Mr. Enright fully capable of conducting the work of the Director of Civil Service, but in the interests of Dr. Washburn, Assistant Director of the Bureau, who would probably tender his resignation were he passed over.

"Mr. Enright will go home on leave whenever the Governor General departs for America. He has not had a vacation in nearly five years and is very much in need of a rest. Dr. Washburn will receive an important appointment with the Civil Service Commission of the United States."

REPORT BOARD OF EDUCATION.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville.

WORD FROM THE PAST

Now that stories of Lincoln, his life, his popularity and stories that he is supposed to have told are being repeated throughout the land, the following one, a tribute to the respect in which he was held, is particularly appropriate. The incident was told in the columns of the Daily Gazette over forty years ago and is again contributed by the same person, Mrs. Margaret King Horn:

"In 1860, I (accompanied by Minnie and Walter, my children) was visiting in Janesville at the time Lincoln and Hamilton were, respectively, running for President and Vice-President. "As I was going down East Main street, near Bluff, on the north side, I saw and heard a dirty little rag-muffin, less than five years, say to himself, swinging his dilapidated headgear, and yelling, "Three cheers for Lincoln and Hamilton, my boys." I laid my hand on his head, saying, "Don't you know you ought not to swear that way? 'Humph! What you know about it? You're nothing but a woman!'"

"I don't think I was answered?" His head was already swollen in indignation of the time when he'd be a voter, some sixteen or seventeen years in the future.

"MARGARET KING HORN."

E. J. BOWER HELD FOR TRIAL IN MADISON

Capitol City Judge Decides There is Enough Evidence to Hold Man on Statutory Charges.

Edward J. Bower, well known in this city, was held for trial by Judge Donovan of Madison on the grounds that he committed a statutory offense when he married Clara Schmidt, the woman who had been arrested here in Chicago just a week after she had secured a divorce from her former husband. The couple lived together as man and wife in Janesville, Deloit, Madison and Prescott, but the woman has so far been unable to produce a certificate of marriage, and if she could show such a document it would be invalid according to District Attorney Mason, in that she was again married in less than a year from the time of her divorce. March 22 is the date set for trying the case and the jurors will be sworn March 15. Not being able to interest any one in his case to an extent that will warrant them furnishing the required bonds of $1,000, Bower will remain in jail.

In presenting his arguments at the preliminary hearing, District Attorney Mason stated that he could produce conclusive evidence that Bower was married at the time he had relations with some other woman than his wife. Mr. Mason claimed that he could prove Bower's marriage to Myrtle Eaton from admissions of the defendant himself, from the fact that she signed a mortgage as his wife, and from the couple lived together as man and wife. He claimed that at that time he had relations with Clara Schmidt, but that their marriage was illegal on the grounds stated before.

The courtroom was crowded by friends of the parties in the suit, mostly women. Clara Schmidt was present at both hearings, but Myrtle Eaton was not to be seen at either time.

which the lines sparkle, and hugely enjoying such little pleasures as the thoughtful anticipation of the toes to be asked by the poor, "Fanny," and such big ones as the great climax of the first net wherein the Devil, hopping into high-backed chair, pulpit, amid a glow of red light, unites the hands of the two principals as if pronouncing a marriage ceremony, and the startling clock episode at the Vorse's mansion wherein Mr. Luelker admits that "he is never quite sure what a woman will do." It is human nature to admire the character who is always on top, and anyhow, as has been observed, the others are more puppets in this play.

All of the other roles are admirably taken and the piece, like the traditional Danish production, is simultaneously staged with an infinite attention to detail. The artist's studio is a remarkable creation of stagecraft.

WILL ORGANIZE NEW ECONOMICS SOCIETY

New Club Will Be Similar to Woman's Summer Club—Meeting Held March Sixth.

March sixth at the high school building, the committee on Housewife Economies of the First District Federation of Women's Clubs will hold a meeting to organize a study class on subjects relating to home-making. The class will be similar to the organization, the Summer Club of Household Economies, which was organized three years ago with eleven members and now has an enrollment of two hundred and seventeen, although for two years their number was limited to one hundred and seventy.

The new class will admit to membership all women interested in the subject of housekeeping who desire to give four days during the summer months of the year to a careful consideration of these topics.

The meetings in the summer will be held in the form of lectures, and it is planned to hold one at Milton, Avon, Shople, and Clinton or at farm-houses near these places.

The general program of the sessions will be composed of a paper on Food Values, written by Miss Caroline Hunt, in charge of the Domestic Science department at the State University; Health Talks, by a lady who has made Physical Culture a life work; and a demonstration by a member of the class from Hamilton Daniel's book, "Simple Home Furnishing." Each subject will be followed by a discussion open to all the ladies.

At the organization meeting Miss Coleman, instructor in Domestic Science at the high school, will give an address on the importance of the work and will assist in the organization of the class.

"THE DEVIL" PLAY
HIGHLY UN-MORAL

Inducing Only Skepticism and Disillusionment—Magnificent Presentation by George Arliss and Company.

"The Devil"—Harrison Gray Fiske and David Belasco production based on Alexander, Koutas' translation from the original of Ibsen's Master Builder, presented at the Myers theatre, Janesville, Tuesday evening, March 2, by the following cast of characters:

Sander Tattray.....Hamilton Revelle
Lazlo Voross.....Herbert Hudd
Andre.....J. Palmer Collins
A Servant.....Franklin Verney
Johan (Madame Voross).....John Vilma.....Marion Buckert
Fanny.....Mrs. George Arliss

George Arliss was first seen here with Mrs. Fiske in the production of Ibsen's "Rosa Holsheim" which was presented in Janesville on the evening of March 3, 1908. As "Ullrich" he depicted the eccentric, eccentric and ended his performance with a song and a dance. He was to end him an ideal or two as he went into the "mighty nothingness," he symbolized a world's harsh and mocking laugh at the hopelessness of high aspirations, and his vivid portrayal stood out strongly in the forbidding picture. "Ullrich Brendel" had abandoned his dreams and carried his meekness humbly only as a handy garment as he emerged in the role of the Arch-Devil last evening. He was no longer a crushed and broken thing in the Kingdom of Despair, but master of the realm. Perhaps the transition was not a difficult one.

Mephisto in his traditional red hood and feather never displayed more diabolical elevations or more completely dominated the scenes in which he moved than does this sinister, sometimes snarling and sometimes suave frock-coated addition portrayed by Mr. Arliss. In "Faust," Satan was definitely summoned to be a master of a situation, but in this exotic Hungarian version he comes fitting in to his inevitable triumph wherever there is the merest rift in the rock of virtue, and the stage marionettes which are meant to typify humanity battle helplessly against him.

After a love affair which has been successfully repressed for six years, Mrs. Voross is taken by her million-headed husband to the studio of her former admirer to have her portrait painted. Amid many dread forebodings, she presently prevailed upon to remove her waist in order that her shoulders may be sketched, when presto—like some evil smoke-god materializing from a bottle or a snake cooing from a bush, Mr. Devil is upon the scene. The apparition explains that he has been asleep in a chair, the back of which has been turned to the audience, and hence unnoticed the while. By means of insinuating address he alternately calms and plays upon the fears of the woman, and the artist, upon his return to the studio, is prevented from forcibly ejecting the unwelcome guest at the very outset by a reminder that this is the same stranger who once loomed him a sum of gold at Monte Carlo. Always illustrated but unobviously, it seems, the confident of those with whom he comes in contact, this serpentine figure delicately but surely ensnares the audience and ensnaws the intended victims in his net, closing the transaction in the last act with a sardonic laugh and a careless exclamation, "Good work!"

The subtle and facile villainy of the Arliss delineation grips the onlooker in a vise. His sympathies are twisted all out of gear and he finds himself laughing at the cynical epigrams with which the lines sparkle, and hugely enjoying such little pleasures as the thoughtful anticipation of the toes to be asked by the poor, "Fanny," and such big ones as the great climax of the first net wherein the Devil, hopping into high-backed chair, pulpit, amid a glow of red light, unites the hands of the two principals as if pronouncing a marriage ceremony, and the startling clock episode at the Vorse's mansion wherein Mr. Luelker admits that "he is never quite sure what a woman will do." It is human nature to admire the character who is always on top, and anyhow, as has been observed, the others are more puppets in this play.

PLAN REUNION FOR THE TAFTS

Family to Gather at White House To-Morrow.

PRESIDENT TO PLAY GOLF

Will Be on the Links Whenever Opportunity Comes—Goes to Executive Mansion To-Night—Cannon's Nephew is Hurt.

Washington, Mar. 3.—After the inauguration to-morrow there will be a reunion of the various members of the Taft family at the White House. The details of the gathering and the time have not yet been arranged, although the entire Taft family will be in town.

As the guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, President-elect and Mrs. Taft begin their occupancy of the White House to-night, going there for dinner and remaining.

Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, his wife and two daughters, one unmarried, the other the wife of Albert Ingalls, and her two children, are quartered at Connecticut and Massachusetts avenues, in a house taken by Mr. Taft for the occasion. Dr. William A. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, who is the president-elect's sister, are here from Los Angeles, and are at the New Willard to remain for the inauguration.

Henry W. Taft, brother of the president-elect, his wife, daughter Louise and sons Walbridge and William of New York, are also at the New Willard.

Children Reach Washington. Miss Helen, Mr. Robert and Master Charlie, the three children of the president-elect and Mrs. Taft, arrived last night and are with their parents at the Boardman residence, as is also Miss Della Torrey of Milbury, Mass., who is the only representative of the Taft family of the last generation.

Miss Torrey is in her eighty-second year. She is a sister of Mr. Taft's mother and has lived with his parents since his boyhood.

There is a peculiarly strong affection between the incoming president and his maiden aunt. Her life has been an inspiration to him in a number of speeches he has delivered to young women students, particularly in his advice to them not to consider marriage the only object to be attained. To enforce this argument Mr. Taft has stated that the lovelessness of character developed by self-sacrificing unmarried women has shown to him that there may be much in a single life.

Horace D. Taft, the other brother of Mr. Taft, and his wife, are here from Watertown, Conn., and are guests of Secretary Garfield of the department of the interior. The Garfield boys are students of the school maintained by Horace D. Taft, as is also Charlie Taft, the youngest son of the president-elect.

Plays Golf and Wins. Mr. Taft enjoyed a golf game on the Chevy Chase course yesterday and said he felt much better for the ride to the club and the four-mile walk on the golf course. He defeated handsily his opponent, Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, and remarked with some regret that he believed he would be unable to get away for a game today.

Mr. Taft is a member of the Chevy Chase club, and intends to play golf whenever opportunity may afford, but at present he sees little chance for recreation during the first few weeks of his administration. Returning from the golf course in his new automobile, the president-elect somewhat enjoyed the spectacle of leaving behind in the mud a member of his secret service guard who had undertaken to make the trip on a motor cycle.

Before his game Mr. Taft was called upon by Senator-elect Elihu Root and the two had a lengthy conference.

Last Cabinet Dinner Given. The last cabinet dinner which President Roosevelt will attend was given last night at the home of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and Mrs. Straus.

The first inauguration visitor injured was Richard Cannon of Danville, Ill., a nephew of Speaker Cannon, who collapsed on Pennsylvania avenue, receiving a painful scalp wound. He was treated at a local hospital and was able later to leave the institution.

DEATH IN TENEMENT FIRE.

New York Chief Believes Nine Persons Lost Their Lives.

New York, Mar. 3.—Four persons, a man, a woman and two children perished early today in a fire which swept through a four-story brick tenement in Seventh avenue near Thirty-second street. Several children are missing and it is feared that the death list will grow. The flames, which started in the basement, swept rapidly up the stairway, cutting off the escape of the terror-stricken tenants, many of whom tried to jump from the windows. The police and firemen made several spectacular rescues.

Mrs. Chief Croker, after inspecting the ruins, said that at least nine persons had met death, and search was begun for their bodies.

HORSES THAT DRAW THE LOAD.

Successful Pulling Newspapers are Many Times Held Down by the Poorer Papers.

A moving van came rolling down Jackson boulevard the other day with a big spirited Percheron in the center and two wretched nags on either side. The Percheron was doing all the work and it seemed that he would have got along far better in single harness than he managed with his inferior mates retarding his speed.

The advertiser who selects a dozen mediums for his announcements usually purchases two times as much to every pulling one, and just as the van driver probably dealt out an equal portion of feed to each of his animals, just so many a merchant is paying practically the same amount to a weak newspaper and to various advertising schemes that he is allowing the sturdy profitable newspaper.

Unfortunately the accepted custom of inserting the same advertisement in every paper acts to the distinct disadvantage of the meritorious medium. The advertiser charges the sum total of his expense against the sum total of his returns, and thereby does himself and the best pulper an injustice by crediting the less productive sheets with results that they have not earned.

It's the pulling power of the advertising medium as well as the horse that proves its value, and if advertisers were as level-headed as they should be they would take the trouble to put every medium in which they advertise on trial for at least six months, and advertise a different department or article in each, carefully tabulating the returns. If this were done fifty per cent of the advertising now carried in weaker mediums would be withdrawn and the patronage of the stronger sheets would advance in that proportion.

There are newspapers in the country that are single handed, able to build up business, and show—all pulled by the number of copies printed. It isn't the number of copies that reach the hands of buyers—it isn't the number of readers but the number of readers with money to spend—it isn't only the bulk of a circulation but the amount of the circulation which is available to the advertiser—it isn't fat but brawn that tells in the long run.

There are certain earmarks that indicate these strength and weakness. They are in plain to the observant eye as the signs of the woods are to the hunter. The news columns tell you what you can expect out of the advertising columns. A newspaper always has the class of readers to which it is catered. When its mental tone is low and its moral tone is careless depend upon it—the readers match the medium.

No gun can hit a target outside of its range. No newspaper can aim its policy in one direction and score in another. An advertiser can find a different class of men and women than the publisher has found for himself. He is judged by the company he keeps.

The Gazette reaches practically every intelligent and thrifty family in this entire community. It is the largest and the strongest advertising medium in Janesville.

Our ad men will help you on your campaign if you will say the word.

A Day's Run of the Mauretania in Distance on Land If Put in Miles Westward From New York.

New York, Mar. 3.—While it is generally known that the modern steamship has crossed the ocean at a terrific pace, few have stopped to compare this with land distances to see exactly what a distance is covered in 24 hours. When the Mauretania recently broke all trans-Atlantic records, especially the 24-hour continuous record, when from Supply noon to Monday noon, she made 674 miles, or in land miles, 773 miles, she was traveling at a rate of 32.2 miles an hour, faster than many of our passenger trains travel in continuous journeys.

The question arises as to what the limit on this speed is to be, and whether eventually steamships will not reduce this rapid means of transportation to say 60 miles an hour.

According to the best authorities on steamship building, this will never be accomplished by the present design of boat. They maintain that with sufficient money a boat can be built which would materially reduce the record, but their most sanguine hopes do not exceed a cutting off of more than two or three knots per hour.

The Mauretania made her brilliant record through a new invention in the propeller, and this will undoubtedly be adopted among other large boats, for it evidently does the work.

The additional cost of the gaining of a few knots per hour will be entirely out of proportion to the return according to transportation authorities, and for that reason it is unlikely that faster boats will make their appearance in the near future. The additional cost comes not only in the ships themselves, for that is insignificant compared with the greater cost of dredging harbors, constructing docks, etc., to accommodate the larger boats.

The Mauretania is at present utilizing the largest dock on the Atlantic coast, and is only 34 feet shorter than this dock. At low tide there is only 40 feet of water in New York harbor, and the Mauretania draws 35. The larger ship with more speed would require longer docks and deeper draught than is now available.

At first thought it would seem that additional speed could be obtained by revolving the propellers more rapidly, but this is not the case. After a certain number of revolutions per second are obtained the power in the propeller decreases instead of increasing with the number of revolutions, and if the propellers were revolved rapidly enough the boat would not move at all.

The Mauretania has four propellers. This could possibly be increased to six and a slight additional efficiency gained.

It will undoubtedly be left to the imagination of some genius to conceive a new type of hull for a ship which may to some extent overcome the friction necessitated in the present design. At that time and not until then can we look for records in navigation that will equal the railroads.

A STARTLING STATEMENT New York Medical Authorities Claim Dyspepsia Causes Consumption.

The most mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that some cases of consumption are due to unchecked dyspepsia, especially when the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Dyspepsia wears out the body and brain, the weakened, irritable stomach is unable to digest food, the body does not receive the required nourishment, constipation ensues and the victim becomes thin, weak and haggard. As a result, the body becomes a favorable field for germs of disease to lodge and flourish.

Therefore, the person who permits dyspepsia to progress, unhindered by the use of medicine, is guilty of contributing toward the development of one of the most insidious and fatal diseases known to mankind.

Dyspepsia is curable if properly treated. The Smith Drug Co. sell a remedy which they positively guarantee will cure indigestion or dyspepsia or they will pay for all the medicine used during the trial. This remedy is an absolutely new medical discovery and has been named Raxall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no other could be more fair, and the offer of the Smith Drug Co. is proof positive that Raxall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable and infallible remedy. Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you we urge you who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try this remedy. A twenty-five cent box of Raxall Dyspepsia Tablets contains enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. Remember Raxall Dyspepsia Tablets are only sold in Janesville by the Smith Drug Co.

The Annual Clearance Sale of Furniture

Has now nicely started and the many bargains are being eagerly sought after. As I told you, "I have 30 'Royal Push Button' Morris Chairs to sell," and I am going to do so in the next few days. I am going to coax you in to see them, but it will require no coaxing to get you to buy after you see the bargains. The prices start at $8.00, and when you can buy a $12.00 chair for $8.00, and a new chair, you are getting a bargain. The ROYAL PUSH BUTTON Morris chair is sold by us exclusively, and it is seldom exclusive. Lines are cut as we have these chairs. The chairs are finely made, with an elegant polish finish. No cheap sale chairs, but the highest grade Morris chairs made in this country. Remember the low cut price on Furniture during the month of March.

IN FIGHTING TRENCH.

With all make of friendship thrown away, Robert M. La Follette, stood in his true colors in the United States Senate yesterday and denounced his former friend and financial backer who seeks admission to that august body.

It was to have been expected of the man by those who have dealt with him in the past but it was also a lesson to the future when he again took the side of the people of Wisconsin for self aggrandizement and advertisement as a Chautauque lecturer.

The voters decided that Isaac Stephenson of Marinette was their choice for United States Senator. They so voted at the now farcical primary election last September. Then they named their state Senators and assemblymen to go to Madison to follow out their instructions.

But the result of the primary was not pleasing to La Follette. He had sucked the money barrel of Stephenson as dry as he could. He objected and under his instructions and on a plea of fraud and corruption a young state senator named Blaine made his business charges in the senate and the investigation followed.

Meanwhile the vote for United States Senator as proffered by the United States Constitution began and on the first ballot in the two houses, assembly and senate, Isaac Stephenson received a vote sufficient to elect him at the joint ballot.

This is the certificate that Governor Davidson subscribed to, that secretary of state Frear placed the great seal of Wisconsin and W. C. Wheeler took to Washington to present to the Senate of the United States.

It was at the presentation of this certificate Senator Nelson of Minnesota that Senator La Follette threw off the mask of any semblance or friendship and denounced the man and his methods.

Meanwhile his followers at Madison have done all that they can to block a vote on the joint ballot. Finding the members a sufficient number to elect, favor Stephenson, aided by the democrats, they held the joint session and thus block the will of the people.

The investigating committee are finding some interesting facts that do not include the money spent by Stephenson. They find that the men who opposed him received money for their respective candidates. They find that the Lt. Governor himself was recipient of fifty dollars and that other Senators were also pleased to have checks sent them by candidates.

This condition of affairs is enough to disgust any sane man with the cry of reform. Reform that spells money. Reform that was to give the people the power to name their own candidates without any interference of the politicians. Reform that is only destruction for self advancement.

WILL HE ACCEPT.

Victor L. Berger, in the Social Democratic Herald invites Robert M. La Follette to unite with his party. He says:

"However, if Robert M. La Follette did join the socialist party, he would at once become a figure of national and international importance. He would at once speak for many millions and to many millions. His seat in the senate chamber would at once be transformed into a world's podium. Every utterance of his would find echo within the millions of silent proletarians in this country, and be repeated in all the civilized nations of the world.

"The Aldriches, the Hales, the Rockefeller, the Ryans and the Archbalds, who now laugh at him, would pale into insignificance. They would have good reason to tremble.

"And Robert M. La Follette would then become a national and international figure. He would really make history.

"What is he now?

"Now Bob La Follette is supposed to be a disgruntled republican politician. It is generally claimed that he is fighting the 'corporations' as a demagogue because he would like to become president of the United States.

"I do not know whether Mr. La Follette understands enough about socialism—whether he believes in it sufficiently to take any step. If he does not, it would be wrong for him to take it—and we socialists certainly should not want him. But if he has become a socialist at heart—as some people claim, there is only one way to unite the Gordian knot. Take the sword and cut it."

Big hats are to be barred at the Washington parade tomorrow. This is a good thing, for it means a lot more comfort for poor unfortunate men.

The three candidates for city clerk are hustling but thus far the odds seem to favor Skavlen, who made many friends in his race two years ago.

Activity in politics on the part of liquor dealers makes the casual voter wonder why they are so diligent in working for their favorite candidate.

Perhaps they want special privilege?

They can talk all they want to about Speaker Cannon, but thus far he sits in the Speaker's chair in the lower house of congress with as much grace as any man.

One can tell more about Taft's cabinet after a trial of six months, but at the present time it looks like a dandy.

It is up to the tennis cabinet to retire as gracefully as possible and make way for the golf cabinet.

Despite all reports to the contrary, Mr. Roosevelt will have a bully time at the inauguration.

Tomorrow is the day when Roosevelt steps down and out and Mr. Taft walks right in.

So they voted again for United States Senator at Madison this noon.

Any old administration looks good to Washington hotel-keepers.

WILL HAVE EXAMINATIONS FOR POSITION OF WATCHMAN

Place Will be Open to all Citizens of United States and Honorably Discharged Employees.

On the twelfth of March at Madison, the United States Civil Service Commission purposes to hold an examination for the position of watchman, for the Janesville postoffice.

Open to all citizens of the United States between the ages of eighteen and fifty-five years. The examination will not be based on an educational test but points will be given on the age, physical condition and the experience of the applicant. Soldiers and sailors who have been honorably discharged from the service will be admitted to the examinations regardless of the age limit and physical defects providing such do not prevent the proper discharge of their duty. The salary received is $600 per year. Applications should be filed with the secretary of the district in the Federal building in Chicago.

OBERREICH & SANDEWAY

MONUMENTS

The firm is composed of O. C. Oberreich and R. C. Sandeway. Mr. Oberreich comes to Janesville from Portage. He has eighteen years of practical experience in this line, understands the business thoroughly and has been a very successful man. His connections in the past have been with some of the largest firms in the state.

Mr. Sandeway has been in the business for 12 years. He came to Janesville from Chicago's most prominent dealer after having lived there for 10 years. For the past two years Mr. Sandeway was associated with two other dealers of Janesville.

The lettering done by Mr. Sandeway in Janesville is well known and very highly spoken of. Mr. Sandeway has probably lettered more big monuments in Janesville during the last two years than any other man in the business.

With the experience of these two gentlemen and their relations established with eastern manufacturers and importers as well as with local quarries, they are well equipped to give excellent service.

I Have Cured Many Cancers

In the past 19 years and in each case I have agreed to refund all money paid in case of recurrence. I treat only external cancers and can tell to a certainty whether or not a case is curable before I undertake to cure it. Before you take a single treatment I should want you to see what I have done for others who have placed their cases with me.

I'll furnish you reference as to my financial stability and character.

Mr. Forrest, 151 Racine St., this city, says this after I had cured his cancer:

Dr. G. H. Webster, Janesville, Wis. Dear Doctor:—I want to give my name and help to aid others who are suffering from the dread disease of cancer. The six cancers you removed from my breast without the use of a knife, X-ray, or anything else, are now healed and I am well. I am, respectively, C. W. FORREST.

At the annual meeting of the state board of agriculture today George McKorow was re-elected president, John M. True secretary, and William McLaron of Milwaukee, the new member of the board who succeeded H. L. Watrous, resigned, was placed in charge of the publicity and promotion of the Wisconsin state fair, O. F. Roederer succeeds "Chet" Wilcox as superintendent of the speed department, and Grant U. Fisher of Jamesville was named as marshal.

The complete list of officers with the superintendents of various departments are as follows:

President—George McKorow.
Vice-president—George G. Cox.
Secretary—John M. True.
Board of managers—J. J. Nelson, G. U. Fisher, and George Wyllie.

ODD FELLOWS HAD PLEASANT SOCIAL

250 Attended Entertainment Given by Jamesville Lodge No. 90 Last Evening.

About 250 Odd Fellows and their families attended the social given by Jamesville Lodge No. 91, I. O. O. F., at the West Side hall last evening. Delicious refreshments were served and the Knell & Hatch orchestra played for a dance which lasted until twelve o'clock.

CURRENT ITEMS.

Special Meeting F. O. E. There will be a special meeting of the Eagles this evening at 8 p. m. All members of the lodge are requested to meet at the hall at 8:30 tomorrow morning with badges to attend the funeral of Gus Schumacher.

Badly Bruised: W. R. Conrad has been confined to his home for the past week by severe bruises which he received in a runaway. Mr. Conrad was attending a sale in the country and as he was alighting from his carriage his horse suddenly started, throwing him to the ground.

Intermediate Games: In the basketball games in the intermediate league at the Y. M. C. A. last night, the Sox defeated the Gluts by the score of 20 to 6. The Sox versus the Cubs resulted in the defeat of the Cubs by 18 to 12. The Tigers beat the Pirates 22 to 8. The running in the race for the championship of this league is very close, three teams being tied for first place with the Gluts at the head of the list.

Nomination Papers: Nomination papers for Roy M. Cummins, who seeks the republican nomination for city clerk, were filed at the city hall today. The same thing has been done for J. W. Clark, candidate for the republican nomination for alderman from the first ward; H. W. Brown, who seeks to succeed himself as alderman from the Third ward; and John R. Spoon, candidate for the republican nomination for supervisor from the First ward.

Will Confer Degree in Beloit: About fifty members of Rock River Chapter, I. O. O. F., will take the 7:15 car Friday evening for Beloit, where they will confer the Royal Purple degree on a class of Lino City candidates.

Suicide Visited at Station: While on his way home from Oklahoma last Sunday with Sam White, the confessed forger who committed suicide on Monday, Chief Shaugnessy stopped over here between train and in company with his charge visited the local police station. White at that time appeared to be in good spirits and that he was taking the situation very philosophically.

Orfordville Bankrupt: In the office of the registrar of deeds has been filed a declaration by the U. S. court for the western district of Wisconsin that Frank Williams of Orfordville is bankrupt and discharging all debts which existed on March 23, 1907.

Report Misunderstood: Health Commissioner G. C. Wandle's report to the common council on the local tuberculosis situation Monday evening was misunderstood both by the aldermen and the press representatives. It appears that the statistics show an aggregate of 29 deaths from tuberculosis since January 1, 1908. As understood by those present, the report simply mentioned January 1, and the inference of course, was that this year was meant.

Had Narrow Escape: Norman Carls, Jr., fell into a ditch which runs through the ravine in the Third ward, falling into several feet of water. He was pulled out by Cal. Wedgewood who was with him, before he sank down into the soft mud at the bottom.

Beloit "Frat" Buys Land: A warranty deed setting forth the fact that Elizabeth H. Helm of Beloit has conveyed lot 10 in block 32 in that city to the newly formed Phi Epsilon Pi Greek letter society for the consideration of $8,000 has been filed with the registrar of deeds.

GETS DATA ON THE WORK ALONG RIVER

Captain Wheeler Begins Preparation of the Documents for War Department.

Captain L. L. Wheeler, government engineer, has started the work of gathering material from commercial clubs, manufacturers, cities and others who would be interested in the deepening of Rock river between Rockford and Jamesville, and expects to have his data compiled before July 1 next.

Under the provisions of the section in the river and harbor bill which provides for a survey of Rock river from Sterling to Jamesville, it is necessary to do much preliminary work before the survey is started.

The bill provides that data must be gathered from those interested in the work to show that it is a reasonable project, before the work is started.

It is necessary that this data should be gathered before July 1, as the bill providing for the work will not be available until after the data is gathered and presented to the war department.

It is known that a number of the manufacturers here are heartily in favor of the plan and predict that the power in the river will be improved greatly if the plans of the Rock River Improvement association are carried out. The benefit to the manufacturer, as aside from possible cheap transportation, will be in the improved power in the river.

The reservoirs at Horicon marsh that are planned as a part of the improvement are looked to steady the power in the river through the saving of the surplus water in the spring and holding it in reservoir until it is needed at a time of drought that is likely to come after the middle of the summer.

Careful measurements of the flow of the river shows that there is wide variation between the spring and summer flow. In the spring there is much more water than is needed and in the summer not enough.

This was formerly a serious drawback to the power lower down the river but since the installation of the big government dam, it has created an immense pondage that last year proved to be of the greatest advantage here.

It is the conservation of the water for power purposes that now interests the factory owners along the stream and far which it is understood they stand ready to put up a large amount of money.

Y. M. C. A. TO HOLD MEET IN HIGH SCHOOL

Plans Are Being Made for a Pleasing Entertainment to be Given in High School.

On Friday evening, April sixteenth, an interesting program is to be given in the high school gymnasium by members of the Y. M. C. A. classes in order to place the work which is being done in the association before the public. As the meet comes at the end of the indoor season, most of the athletes will be able to take part. Over one hundred, including members of all ages, will assist in the celebration and the entertainment will be one of the best of its kind ever given in Jamesville. The high school auditorium has been chosen as the seating capacity is better than that of the Y. M. C. A., although the equipment is no better. The concert of the Board of Education to use the hall was secured at their meeting on Monday night.

The program has been arranged to awaken and hold a lively interest for the audience throughout the entire evening. The first number to be given has been planned as a surprise, of which nothing more has been given out than that it is to be a chorus of some sort. Following this there will be play skits by members of the basketball team and then wrestling bouts will be held. A squad of the best gymnasts in the state will give the next performance. Mat and pyramid work will also be given considerable attention. After the exhibition skits there will be performing on the horizontal and parallel bars and the work on the bars and work on the back by the Juniors. The closing feats in the meet will be dumb bell and torch club swings by mixed groups.

WILL BE BROUGHT BEFORE THE CIRCUIT COURT HERE

Bert Kreuger and Fred Harten Walwed Examination Before Justice Luchenger of Monroe.

Before Justice John Luchenger in Monroe today, Fred Harten and Bert Kreuger, who are charged with assaulting George Chase at Broadhead with intent to rob, waived examination and were bound over to the circuit court. They will probably be brought before Judge Grimm in this city next week.

It appears that after committing their distasteful act at Broadhead the two men broke into a freight-car near Evansville and secured 80 pounds of pork, four boxes of cigars, several boxes of tobacco.

A North-Western detective went to Monroe this morning and secured a confession from them and then went to Evansville, where, aided by Officer Fred Grimm of that city, he found the hiding place of the stolen goods.

OBITUARY.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO RACINE STREET HOME

Still Alarm Sent in to Quench Stubborn Chimney Fire—Damage Was But Slight.

This morning about nine o'clock the fire department had a long run to answer a still alarm call from the home of John Gullen, 1246 Racine street. The trouble was caused by a chimney fire, which stubbornly resisted all efforts to subdue it and the boys spent three-quarters of an hour before it was finally quenched. The chemicals were used in putting the fire out. No great damage was done.

You Are Invited to Visit This Place.

This is a view of the laboratory in Lynn, Mass., in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made.

There is a sign 5 feet long and 24 feet wide attached, permanently, to the front of the main building which reads as follows:

Public Inspection Invited—from 8 A.M. to 4 P.M.
—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

What does this sign mean?

It means that public inspection of the laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the Pinkham business which is not "open and above-board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify the statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made exclusively from roots and herbs?

Come and See for Yourself.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See for Yourself.

Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick women are asked to write?

Come and See for Yourself.

Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See for Yourself.

Have they really got letters from more than a million women?

Come and See for Yourself.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See for Yourself.

This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

THE LAST VOYAGE OF THE DONNA ISABEL

BY RANDALL PARRISH

CHAPTER VI.

In Which We Attain the Open Sea. Our adventure had been successfully accomplished through its first step; now it remained to get safely out to sea. As I turned to retrace my steps to the deck I encountered De Nova coming up.

"Pretty lucky job, monsieur," he said, jovially. "It was what you call a picnic, I bet. So companion was luck, and so guard posted. What more now for me?"

"Relieve Mr. Tuttle in the engine room. Keep three men below there with you, and arm them as guards. Make the Kanakas do the firing, and hold the engineer to it with a gun at his head. You know enough about a stake-hole to tell whether things are going right, don't you?"

He nodded, and I could see the gleam of his white teeth.

"Then get your steam up, but don't let those fellows fire so as to drive any damp out of the stack, and watch that Johnny Bull so that he can't put any kinks in the machinery. Don't take your eyes off him. Do you understand the signals?"

"Ay, ay, monsieur."

"Then stand by. We'll tow out at once with the boats, but I want you ready for business the very moment we cast off the line. Send all the rest of the men on deck and ask Mr. Tuttle to report to me here immediately."

I was not kept waiting. Two men came stumbling up the companionway together. I peered at them, uncertain of their identity in the gloom.

"Is that you, Mr. Tuttle?"

"Yes, sir. This is Johnson, one of the wheelmen; thought you would like to see him; so I brought him along."

"Very good. Johnson, go on up into the wheelhouse and see that all is close. I'll give you directions later. Mr. Tuttle, we'll tow out until we get the sweep of the sea fairly under our fore foot. Get the lines out to the boats at once, with full crew at the oars. You are to take command, and I shall have to trust you for the course, as we can't risk sighting. I presume you are acquainted with the harbor lights?"

"Heard in here eight times in ten years without a pilot."

"Then you ought to know the course, but take no chances; feel your way, only keep the ropes taut. Have you any man fit to take charge of the second boat? I need De Nova below."

"The boatswain, sir; that big fellow with the scar."

"What's his name?"

"Bill Anderson."

"All right; put him in the cutter. Leave me three men on deck, and post the best one of the lot at the stern line ready to cast off. As soon as you get the ropes out I'll slip the anchor-chain, and leave the flukes in the mud. Work lively now; we must be well out at sea before daylight."

He stood leaning against the rail, peering out over the water, his hands shading his eyes.

"Have you spotted any guardboats with your glasses?" he questioned, uneasily.

"Only that one yonder; see, the yellow light just rounding the stern of that big brig. There was a steam-launch out there to the west about 20 minutes ago, but it seems to have disappeared."

"Swallowed up in the fog likely," he admitted, sniffing the air like a pointer dog. "Well, that I banded pretty heavy outside, or I'm a lubber. Well, so much the better for our job. All right, Mr. Stephens, I'm off, and we'll have you in tow in a fifty. I'll put the lighter at the stern line. He's the best all-around hand on board."

However I may have doubted and distrusted the whiteman he certainly proved himself an able seaman and a smart officer. He comprehended every detail of his work, and held his men to it finely. Within 20 minutes we were in motion, moving slowly, yet steadily, toward the black vacancy outlined by the harbor lights on either hand. There was no disturbing sound to betray progress, the yacht's sharp cut-water cleaving its passage through the liquid with the merest faint ripple, scarcely leaving a plume of white foam behind, the oars dipping silently, the two lines held taut to the strain. Exultant, I climbed once again to the bridge, gave a few directions to the observant Johnson standing motionless at the wheel, and leaned anxiously over the rail, studying the water-front through leveled glasses.

It was a barren, deserted waste, except for a deeply laden schooner beating slowly up along the north shore under closely reefed topsails, and the gleaming lights of a large steamer just beginning to emerge faintly through the curtain of fog a trifle to the left of our course. The towing boats appeared as two insignificant blots on the surface, but that they were making excellent progress was proved by the way we were steadily drawing up toward the outer lights, already shining round and yellow through the increasing haze.

How dark, silent, uncanny the gloom-enshrouded yacht appeared as I looked over the tarpaulin-protected rail and gazed down on the deserted decks, no movement, no gleam of light anywhere visible. The two masts, for the vessel was schooner-rigged, rose rakishly and with noble sweep into the sky, yet I could trace, little of the cordage against the expanse of cloud. They appeared skeleton-like rods to be broken by a gust of wind. A slight fringe of white water alone marked our progress, while a misty vapor of escaping steam spoke of the chained engine and hissing boilers below. As I rested thus, the watchful Johnson grasping the spokes behind me, the momentous events of the past few hours swept through my mind like fragments of a strange, disconnected dream—my seemingly hopeless plight in Valparaiso; my controversy with Lieutenant Sanchez; my brief meeting with the Englishman; the friendly omen of Doris; the throbs of sudden terror aroused by her presence and as quickly lost again; the sudden swinging of the pendulum of Fate; the approach of De Castilla bringing unexpected opportunity for action and escape, and those later events which had so rapidly followed, I struck my hand hard against the iron rail, to assure myself I was awake, and to arouse my dormant faculties to action.

"Hold her steady as she is, Johnson," I said, my voice tremulous from sudden awakening. "I'm going down to recall the boats."

"Steady as she is, sir."

In the engine room, two seamen, each grasping a gun, leaned negligently against a bulkhead, while De Nova, bare-headed, his little black mustache clearly outlined against the olive of his cheek, occupied the stool between them. The Kanaka stevedores were out of sight, but the red-faced engineer was on his knees tinkering over a refractory bolt with a monkey-wrench.

"Everything working all right," Mr. De Nova? I questioned, quietly.

The eyes of the four men instantly turned toward me, the engineer straightening up, monkey-wrench in hand.

"No troubles here, monsieur," and the mate rose to his feet, his white teeth showing. "We're all well now."

"Just off the point, with the light-house dropping astern, and the swell of the ocean under our forefoot. I am going to call in the boats. Have you plenty of coal?"

"Bunkers all full, monsieur."

"How is your steam?"

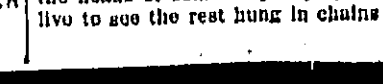

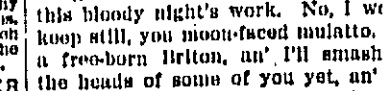

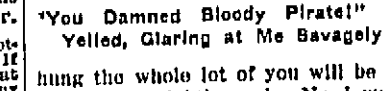

He stepped over to the gauge, peering at it across the bulky shoulder of the engineer, who still stood staring at me.

"Pretty near up to 20 danger mark, monsieur."

"Then stand by for signals."

The engineer came to life as though treated to an electric shock, his fist, still grasping the monkey-wrench, suddenly extended, his red face purpling with passion.

"You damned, bloody pirate!" he yelled, glaring at me savagely. "It's

Mrs. Ben Teal and the State's principal witness, Mabel McCausland, in the Ben Teal trial, an outgrowth of the Frank J. Gould divorce case.

New York, March 3.—Mrs. Margaret Teal, wife of Ben Teal, who was tried for subornation of perjury in connection with the divorce case brought by Mrs. Frank J. Gould against her husband, has been committed to the Tombs following evidence produced in the court to the effect that she expected to flee the country. Mrs. Teal was greatly wrought up over the prospect of a flight in the Tombs.

Mrs. Teal's case will be remembered as the outgrowth of the alleged plot to aid Mrs. Gould in securing a divorce from her husband. Mrs. Teal, principal parties in this plot and the bloody pirates you are. Just wait till you're caught, and then you won't be grinning that way at my honest man. Oh, you'll get it all right, my fine lady. There'll be hell to pay for this job, let me tell you. It's no notion you'll be dancin' then, you murderin' spaw o' hell!"

De Nova pressed the barrel of a revolver into the man's neck, with a stern threat and an unpleasant gleaming of white teeth. The sailors remained leaning on their guns, grinning as if in enjoyment of the play.

"Never mind what he says, sir," and the mate glanced up toward me, as if in apology. "He bust out zat way over 'fif' minutes since we bo down here. We have club him, two, 'f'ree time, but he stuck here just ze same, an' run ze engine. Out, out, it just ze way wif ze bull-headed Englisher."

"I see," I acknowledged, drawing back, "only watch that he doesn't think the machinery."

I was not in the least surprised at discovering one of his nationality in charge of the vessel's engine room, nor was I sorry. He would feel little interest in the affair, after he once clearly comprehended the situation, while a native Chilean might be impelled by a spirit of patriotism to cause us serious trouble. Englishmen were very frequently met with in foreign engine rooms; this fellow had probably been picked up because of better qualifications than any native applicant; or, indeed, he might have been a member of the original crew of the yacht before it was disposed of to the government. I would have a talk with him later; meanwhile he was certainly in good hands; and I had enough else to attend to. The tow-ropes came in hand over hand, and were coiled dripping on the forecastle deck. At the end of them the two boats emerged from out the fog, and the men tumbled in silently over the rail. I watched from the vantage of the bridge, as the whole crew tumbled onto the falls, distinguishing Tuttle's meal tines above the incessant shuffling of feet.

"Norwest by nor, Johnson—now hold her steady, my lad."

I pulled the signal cord, dimly distinguishing the faint responsive flutters of the bell beneath. Like a homed steamer sprang forward into the fog wreaths and buried her sharp nose in the sea.

"You Damned Bloody Pirate!" He yelled, glaring at me savagely.

Yelled, glaring at me savagely.

Yelled, glaring at me savagely.

Yelled, glaring at me savagely.

Yelled, glaring at me savagely.

Yelled, glaring at me savagely.

HORSEMAN HELD FOR CRUELTY TO A BOY

Lad's Body a Mass of Cuts and a Keweenaw Man Is Accused.

Keweenaw, Ill., Mar. 3.—Charged with whipping a 12-year-old orphan boy with a heavy whip until his body is a mass of cuts, A. D. Cassidy, a horseman well known in Illinois racing circles was arrested yesterday.

The boy, Paul Vanderberg, is now at St. Francis hospital, where his frail body was found to be slashed, bruised and scorched from head to foot. The arms and legs are swollen and there is not a patch of surface on his body as large as a saucer, which has not been cut through with welts at all angles.

He declares Cassidy, when enraged because he was not doing his work at the stables fast enough, took him down his collar and, having removed all his clothing, lashed him with a horsewhip, nearly every blow bringing blood.

This was repeated on succeeding days, according to the lad's story, and the wounds of one day were reopened the next by the flogging.

The boy says Cassidy would have him run to him at night, and when he came to words he could not pronounce that Thursday night he ordered him to stand up and look at the ceiling. Then Cassidy struck him over the eyes with a stick.

Both eyes are now terribly discolored and swollen.

Cassidy admits punishing the boy, but says he didn't mean to hurt him. He was placed under $1,200 bonds on warrants charging assault with a deadly weapon and assault with intent to commit murder.

NO ASSAULT WAS COMMITTED.

DEFENSE RESTS CASE IN THE COOPER TRIAL

State to Begin Rebuttal To-Morrow—Sends Out a Hurry Call for Witnesses.

Nashville, Tenn., Mar. 3.—There was no session of the Cooper-Carmack murder trial today, the defense having rested its case yesterday. It will be resumed to-morrow.

After the ordeal of days of examination and argument, the attorneys were given their first respite, when court ordered an adjournment until to-morrow, when the state will present its rebuttal evidence.

Attorney General McCann announced that he would probably recall several of the defendant's witnesses before he offers his rebuttal, and this may mean that the defense will again open its case in chief.

In the meantime the state has sent hurry calls for several witnesses outside of Nashville, and even outside of Tennessee.

The first witness of importance was W. M. Satter, a firearms expert, placed on the stand to prove that the bullet which entered Robin Cooper's body came from a weapon similar to that found by the body of Senator Carmack.

Adlt. Gen. Tully Brown, who attended the conference in Judge Bradford's office an hour before the shooting, described what took place there, as did Judge Bradford himself. Gen. Brown was not cross-examined, but the state did not let Judge Bradford escape.

The prosecution concentrated its fire upon the part he played in preparing the famous statement for the press the night of the killing.

FOR Indigestion AND Dyspepsia USE Kodol

Indigestion and dyspepsia are always caused by food not properly digested in your stomach. When your stomach cannot properly digest food, of itself, it needs aid to assistance—and this assistance is readily supplied by Kodol. Kodol assists the stomach, by temporarily digesting all of the food in the stomach, so that the stomach may rest and recuperate. Kodol is really a very excellent preparation for any digestive disorder.

Our Guarantee. Get a dollar bottle of Kodol. If you are not benefited—the drug will be returned to you. Don't hesitate any more to get Kodol on these terms. The dollar bottle contains 25 times as much as the ten cent bottle. Kodol is prepared in the laboratories of Dr. C. D. Davis & Co., Chicago.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL WAS KILLED

Measure Killed in House by Three Votes.

DEMOCRATS ARE JUBILANT

Cheer Victory for Several Minutes—
Senator Teller Delivers a Speech
Attacking the Lock Type for the Panama Canal.

Washington, Mar. 3.—By the narrow margin of three votes the ship subsidy bill which the senate had passed, was killed in the house yesterday. The vote was 175 to 172. The opponents of the bill cheered their victory.

A dramatic feature of the roll call was the appearance in the hall of Mr.
Goldfogle of New York in an invalid chair, he having been brought from a hospital where he had undergone an operation on his knee cap in order that he might record his name against the bill.

The debate on the bill consumed the entire afternoon, during which a large number of members made speeches for and against it.

Mr. Moon of Tennessee led the opposition to the measure. "It is an infernal fraud designed to plunder the treasury," he declared, speaking of the provision for the training of American boys and answering the plea of patriotism advanced by Mr. Landis, he said that it was but a blind to hide the giving of the people's money to corporations of ship owners.

Clark Brings the Climax.
The climax came when Minority Leader Clark declared that a lobby had been carried on "right on the floor of the house" in favor of the passage of the bill.

The debate against the bill was closed by Mr. Cockran of New York.
As their champion, the advocates of the bill put forth Mr. Passett of New York, who was the closing speaker.
He referred to the condition of the battleship fleet on its return from its recent encircling of the globe.
The feeling in the house was strained as the hour of voting approached. The attendance was probably the largest of the session. Every one recognized that the vote would be close.

Many Speak for Bill.

Others to speak for the bill were:
Goodell of Ohio, Landis of Indiana, Humphreys of Washington and Indianapolis, and others. Others against it were: Small of North Carolina, Wisconsin, Lloyd of Missouri, Butler of
New York, Burton of Ohio, Saunders of Virginia, Wilson of Pennsylvania, Clark of North Carolina, Stearnson of Minnesota, Finley of South Carolina and Norris of Nebraska.

A scene of wild confusion followed the roll call. With the announcement of the vote of 172 in the affirmative
the speaker hesitated to get a good breath, and then said "175 in the negative." The Democratic side of the house broke forth in cheers.

Mr. Overstreet, in charge of the bill, was recognized and he asked to be permitted to change his vote. "This would have allowed him to move to reconsider and have another vote on the bill. The speaker informed him that the vote had been announced and his request came too late.

Philbuster in Senate.
The penal code bill on a conference report was before the senate during almost the entire session and was subjected to filibustering tactics on the part of the minority that resulted almost in no progress being made upon it.

The general deficiency bill was passed, carrying appropriations amounting to more than $19,000,000.

During the reading of the conference report on the penal code bill by the senate yesterday Senator Teller took the floor and spoke on the Panama canal. He contended that the sentiment in congress had been for a sea level waterway at Panama until the Spooner act of 1902 was adopted by a small majority. The president, he asserted, had only sent to Panama engineers known to be in favor of a lock project.

Senator Kittredge interjected that the site of the Gatun dam has been changed 11 times. Senator Hopkins insisted that the present foundation was "as solid as the Rock of Ages."

Standard Oil Official Dead.

New York, Mar. 3.—Wesley H. Til-ford, one of the vice-presidents of the Standard Oil company and a former treasurer of the corporation, died at his home in this city yesterday after an illness of two months. Mr. Tilford, who was born 68 years ago in Lexington, Ky., had lived in this city since his early youth and had been associated with the Standard Oil company for more than 30 years.

Taft Sends Condolence.
Cincinnati, Mar. 3.—Mrs. J. K. Richards, wife of Judge Richards of the United States circuit court, who died
Monday, received this telegram from William H. Taft: "I extend to you my deepest sympathy in your great loss. I have known your husband for a great many years and valued him most highly as a man, a citizen and a public servant."

Agree on Anti-Tuberculosis Bill.
Lansing, Mich., Mar. 3.—The lower house of the state legislature in committee of the whole agreed to an anti-tuberculosis bill similar to the New York law and to a bill providing for graded pay for state employees.
